MISSIONARY SPOTLIGHT - LET'S JOIN IN PRAYER FOR THIS AREA

Juan and his wife, Maria, are missionaries in an area of Columbia that is controlled by the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Columbia. Many Columbian pastors and missionaries have faced opposition from these Forces and have fled the area. Juan had the opportunity to meet with a group of 50 of these guerrillas and 20 of them received Christ as their Lord and Savior. He said, "We exchange pistols for epistles."

A paramilitary group has begun to attack Christian Churches in this region, and more than 20 churches have been shut down and many pastors are fleeing for their lives. Guerrillas will often go into churches and demand all tithes and offerings be given to them, or they take the pastor's life.

Juan is the only pastor left in his area and he receives no outside aid. However, he and his wife have made a decision to stay and continue ministering. They say, "If we are to die because we preached the Word of God, we would rather die than leave the church."

Juan does not condemn those who left, nor does he focus on the dangers and difficulties they face. He chooses to focus on what God is doing and his burden for ministry in reaching Columbia's people for Christ.
